

Gamma NextGen Broadband

Gamma NextGen Broadband offers:

- Reliably fast broadband for business customers.
- The latest ADSL technologies delivering the speeds customers demand.
- A range of charging options for a range of customer budgets.
- A support team you can contact at any time of the day.
- An access service for SIP trunks and Hosted telephony.

What is Gamma NextGen Broadband?

Gamma NextGen Broadband is a family of superfast broadband products based on the latest ADSL technologies and delivering speeds of up to 24 Mbps. Connecting directly into BT's 21CN access network, Gamma provides a range of high-quality business products to meet customers' differing bandwidth and usage needs.

How does it work?

We have coupled our core Next Generation Network with BT's Next Generation Access Network to supply a set of business-grade broadband products that are engineered to the highest standards. Using a variety of technologies such as ADSL 2+ and Annex M we can deliver data speeds of up to 24 Mbps depending on the customer's location.

All our services are ordered and managed via the online Gamma Portal, making provisioning quick and simple.

Who do I sell it to?

We believe business customers look for the following three things in a broadband supplier:

1. Service reliability
2. Value for money
3. Service speeds

Gamma's NextGen Broadband has been built using the highest engineering standards and the latest ADSL technologies to provide a set of fast, reliable data services, and all at a price that represents great value for money.

Benefits

- Superfast products will allow you to meet all your customers' bandwidth needs.
- A range of charging options allows you to supply the right product according to your customer's budget.
- A high quality and resilient network built using Gamma's expertise in large scale IP networks means you can sell with confidence.
- 24/7 telephone support is included as standard so you can always speak to someone any time of the day.
- High quality service and support supplied at mid-range prices gives Partners real value for money.
- Assured IP Services gives you peace of mind in selling end-to-end services from a single supplier.
